RED RANCH DOGS | Two-year genetic health guarantee | September 17, 2026

In this agreement, “we” means Red Ranch Dogs (Seller) and “you” means the signing Buyer. It applies when both parties sign and does not change previously signed agreements.

Your two year health guarantee

Coverage. For two years from the date you take possession at pickup or delivery, we cover certain serious inherited conditions or birth defects, subject to the exclusions and requirements below. A licensed veterinarian must diagnose the condition during those two years, confirm its inherited nature or presence at birth, and establish that it is life-threatening or prevents the dog from functioning as a companion pet. This is not a promise that your dog will never become ill.

Your remedy. For an eligible claim, we will provide a puppy from a future litter of equal or lesser value than your original puppy’s purchase price. Timing depends on litter availability; color and sex are not guaranteed. You may keep your original dog. Original shipping is nonrefundable, and you pay replacement transportation costs.

Not covered. Viral illness, infections, improper bites, stress conditions, hernias, hypoglycemia, parasites, cancer, endocrine disorders, and conditions caused by injury, toxins or foreign objects are excluded, even when inherited or present at birth. Any voluntary hernia-repair contribution must be agreed separately in writing, including the amount; it does not change this exclusion.

Veterinary bills. This is replacement-puppy coverage, not reimbursement for routine care, exams, treatment or other general veterinary expenses after your puppy leaves us. We pay for second opinions or additional diagnostic testing that we request, at the agreed cost, and any separate contribution we agree to in writing.

If you need to make a claim

Notify us within seven days. Contact us within seven calendar days of a veterinarian’s diagnosis. Send the written diagnosis and supporting records as they become available; the complete packet is not due within that week. Records must establish the diagnosis, severity and inherited or congenital nature. The seven-day notice period also applies to diagnoses near the end of coverage.

If your dog dies. A necropsy is not automatically required. We may request one if existing records cannot establish whether a covered condition caused the death, and we pay the agreed cost. Please contact us promptly before cremation or disposal to discuss any necessary examination.

Emergency care comes first. Consult us before euthanasia whenever reasonably possible, but never delay emergency care or veterinarian-recommended humane euthanasia for our permission. If advance consultation is not possible, notify us as soon as reasonably possible and provide available records. This lack of advance consultation does not itself void coverage.

What comes with your puppy

We guarantee good health at pickup, apart from potential intestinal parasites. Your puppy comes with age-appropriate vaccinations, deworming, a microchip and a veterinary exam report. We register the microchip and email you its information.

Your responsibilities

Purchase and transport. You agree to pay the price listed at sale, plus separate transport fees. You assume transport costs and risks, and responsibility for the puppy once it leaves us.

First veterinary visit. We encourage an exam within three business days to establish health records. If you skip it, you acknowledge the puppy was healthy at pickup and accept responsibility for later environmental or stress-related conditions. The genetic health guarantee remains in effect, subject to its terms.

Care and prevention. Provide indoor housing, premium nutrition, a healthy weight, annual wellness exams, prompt veterinary care, current immunizations and heartworm prevention where applicable. You pay for parasite treatment, including repeat treatments. Parasites may be contagious: remove feces promptly and prevent other dogs from ingesting it.

Training and exercise. Basic obedience training in the first year is recommended. Postpone strenuous or forced exercise until after one year of age to protect developing joints.

Spay or neuter by 18 months. Spay or neuter your dog, including gonad-sparing surgery, by 18 months of age and submit proof to us. Failure to provide proof voids the health guarantee. Your puppy is a companion pet with no breeding rights.

If you cannot keep your dog. Contact us immediately so we can determine rehoming steps together. Never surrender the dog to a shelter, rescue, pound or research facility. Transfer the microchip registration whenever the dog is rehomed, sold, gifted or otherwise transferred. Health-guarantee coverage is only for the original Buyer and does not transfer.

Returns unrelated to health coverage. If you return the puppy for a reason unrelated to this health guarantee, we refund the purchase price minus the nonrefundable $500 deposit. You pay transport costs and must return the puppy directly to us.

Public photos and videos. You allow us to use photos and videos of your dog that you post publicly on social media for marketing. No additional guarantees are made by this agreement.
